DETECTIVES HUNT THIEF IN MASK

Burglar Terrorizing Residents of District in Which He Is Operating

Detectives are looking for a masked man with a black mustache, who has entered and robbed two houses within the past two weeks, has made several unsuccessful attempts to enter others, and has kept the residents on Emma street from Gondola Lane to Fern Place in a state of perturbation and terror for the past month.

Last week this man robbed two houses, was frightened away from a third and has been seen several times prowling around the neighborhood. He is described by those who have caught sight of him as being short, thick-set and with a black mustache. He wears a black mask which shields the upper part of his face and seems to make no attempt to carry off jewelry or other valuables, but confines his attentions to money.

His latest appearance was last Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Gramberg of Gondola Lane, with their daughter, left the house open and attended the reception given to Pastor Felmy at K. of P. hall. Willie Gramberg, the seventeen-year-old son, was left in charge of the house.

Willie fell asleep. During his nap the burglar entered by the front door and commenced operations.

Frightened by Street Car.

It is believed that the noise of a street car stopping in front of the house frightened him away, for he took to his heels after grabbing up a small leather pocket book which lay on the dining-room table and fled up the street, followed by a good part of the neighborhood who had seen the man enter the house.

With Mrs. Canario and Joseph Mackintosh still in pursuit, he fled.

PEARL HARBOR EXTENSION IS MEETING FAVOR

(Special Correspondence, Star-Bulletin.)
WASHINGTON, June 27.—Delay in receiving reports from the secretaries of War and Navy prevented the House committee taking action on the delegate's bill granting the Pearl Harbor Traction Company right of way through the reservation until this week. These reports are in the main satisfactory to the company, it is understood, and will result in favorable action by the house committee.

L. Tenney Peck, who came on for the hearings, was the principal spokesman in favor of the measure.

The secretary of War's report approved the bill, but suggested several amendments regarding the operation of the line. The secretary of War favored the building of the road up to the reservation line but insisted on the extension through the reservation should be constructed and owned by the government.

The delegate's bill provides for a right of way from the present terminus of the Honolulu line to the naval station and an extension along the channel to the location of the government's dock.

HONOLULANS IN TROUBLE WITH CUSTOMS MEN

Importers of Laces from Portugal Charged with Under-valuing the Goods.

TIDWELL BACK OF CASE.

Persons Implicated Say Mistake Made Through Ignorance of Exporter

Through what is claimed to be misunderstanding instead of attempted fraud, Honolulu importers of laces have been involved in an alleged violation of the customs law and goods valued at close to a thousand dollars held at San Francisco.

Confiscation of the goods and prosecution of the consignees is demanded by the Treasury Agent in the case. F. R. Tranquada and Mrs. J. P. Melia, of this city, are the parties involved, according to the San Francisco authorities. San Francisco customs people held the goods on the ground that they were undervalued. The recent undervaluation frauds revealed in New York are said to have stirred up the Pacific Coast action, together with Special Agent W. H. Tidwell of the Treasury Department, who has been roving around Hawaii on the lookout for offenders against the customs regulations.

Tranquada Explains.

Tranquada this morning made a full and straightforward statement to the Star-Bulletin, in which he says that the undervaluation was made by his brother in Funchal, Portugal, who marked the valuation on the outside of the packages.

"The goods came by mail from Funchal," said Tranquada this morning, "and were held by the San Francisco customs authorities. When the packages were received in San Francisco, I was asked to send my invoice and did so, the invoice being the true

GIRL DRAGGED FROM DEATH IN SURF BY SOLDIER

Attempted suicide or worse, created a sensation at Waikiki yesterday just before noon, when a young Hawaiian girl was dragged from the water, put into a hack by a soldier, who accompanied her, and taken downtown.

Eyewitnesses to the affair got no inkling as to the identity of the two people, and today it was stated at the hospital and by the police that no report of the trouble had been received.

Attention was attracted to the girl after she had gone into the water, and witnesses say that apparently she had flung herself into the sea while partly under the influence of liquor. The pair are said to have come from the city together.

There were reports that the girl had been thrown into the water, but these could not be confirmed. Several people who aided in getting the girl ashore and into the hack can say only that she was driven down town. The affair happened opposite the stone wall in front of the queen's place.

HALT SLASH IN SALARIES OF CUSTOMS MEN

(Special Correspondence, Star-Bulletin.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 27.—Secretary McCallan has recently been assured by the officials of the Treasury Department that no reduction in the salaries of sub-port collectors will be ordered until after full opportunity has been given for the Delegate to be heard on the matter. Information reaching Washington from Hawaii, to the effect that Inspector Tidwell's report would recommend reduction of the salaries at Kahului, Mahukona and Koloa caused the Secretary to make a visit to the Treasury Department, and the above assurances followed.

WATER STARS OF WORLD MAY COMPETE HERE

International Meet Is Being Planned for Honolulu by Enthusiasts

AUSTRALIANS EXPECTED.

Logical Plan for Contest in View of Showing Made by Kahanamoku

An international swimming meet, second in importance only to that now in progress at Stockholm, is being planned for Honolulu, and within the next few months the fastest water men in the world are likely to be seen in action here.

The tentative plan, which has met with general favor among those who have discussed it, is to have the Australian swimming team new competitors in the Olympic, make a stop-over at Honolulu on the return trip, and swim against Duke Kahanamoku and others in local waters. A still more sweeping plan, that of making a Honolulu swimming carnival an international annual or biennial event, is behind the present project, for it is argued that Hawaii is the logical common meeting point for Australian and American swimmers, and that Honolulu's right to establish such a fixture has been won by the marvelous showing of Duke Kahanamoku.

The swimming project, which may put Honolulu in the forefront on international aquatic sport, grew out of a talk between W. T. Rawlins, the well known local sportsman, and J. N. Phillips, a former New Zealander, who is one of the keenest swimming fans in the territory. Phillips, who knows several members of the Australian swimming team, personally suggested the possibility of holding them here for some exhibitions on the return trip, and Rawlins enlarged on the idea, and thought out the possibilities of making it a regular sport classic.

Scheme Extensive.

"The scheme isn't fully worked out by any means," said Rawlins this morning, "but I believe that although a big one, it could be swung with the assistance of the community. We don't know for certain that the Australian swimmers are coming back this way, but the supposition is that they will make the circuit of the globe, returning by Canada and the Pacific. Mr. Phillips knows several members of the team, and thinks that they would be glad to race here, and meet Duke in his home waters. If he sees them over there, they have nothing to lose, and a whole lot to gain by swimming him in Hawaii, for should they be successful here, it would be a bigger feather in their caps than if they beat the Hawaiian champion in neutral waters."

"Of course such a meeting would have to be under A. A. U. sanction, and prizes would have to be cups or medals, not cash purses. I figure that once well established and advertised we could get entries from the Coast and possibly from the East, if Australia would send up a team in future years, and the event came to be recognized as a real championship. On the present Australian team are several ladies."

Henderson Favors Plan.

Another swimming expert greatly in favor of the plan is Lew G. Henderson, who piloted Duke and Genovese on their Eastern trip.

"No place in the world has a better right to pull off swimming championships than Honolulu," said Henderson. "The showing that Duke has made in the States and abroad has made Hawaii the most talked of swimming center, and such a meeting would certainly be a fine thing for the sport here. I hope it goes through and I think everyone who can help should do so, for Duke and his performances have been about the best publicity that the territory has had for a long while. This good work could be kept up by scheduling an international meeting here."

The idea is to have the races in the harbor, both by daylight and at night, building grandstands on one of the slips and charging a fair price, for choice seats, to help defray expenses. The scheme is too big, however, to be swung without concerted action of the entire community.

The Hill interests are preparing to spend $3,000,000 to build a terminal in Portland, Ore. The terminal will cover eleven city blocks. The Michigan Central will build a terminal at Detroit at a cost of $1,000,000.

CELESTIALS FIGHT WITH FILIPINOS

Race War Waged on Decks and Knives Flash; Officers Quell Disorder

One man killed as a result of a bloody riot between warring Filipinos and Chinese, a crazed native of the Philippine islands, leaping overboard a suicide, and a Japanese dying from a lingering illness, are incidents which made the voyage of the Pacific Mail liner Korea from Manila, Hongkong and Japan ports to Honolulu one of some moment.

One hundred and eighty Filipinos destined for sugar estates in Hawaii were the prime movers in a riot which raged for hours on the main deck of the Korea as that vessel neared Kobe, Japan. The particular object of hatred of the Filipinos were one hundred and fifty Chinese, who are proceeding to San Francisco.

After much fighting in which the half dozen Filipinos and Chinese were badly slashed, the disturbance was quelled through the successful intervention of American officers.

Teapot Starts Trouble.

The melee began over the upsetting of a teapot. The Chinese storage passengers were occupying the after-part of the ship. A group were sitting on deck and discussing an evening meal when several Filipinos wandered over into the section reserved for the Asiatics.

Without a word of warning the much dreaded riot call was sounded by the assembled Chinese.

Blows were rained upon the faces and bodies of the disturbing Filipinos. They managed to make their escape along the sport run way to the forward deck where were gathered their countrymen.

With reinforcement at hand, the Filipinos dashed to the after deck and then began one of the fiercest fights ever witnessed by the little band of terrified American officers.

The natives from the Philippines were almost to a man armed with murderous looking knives known as the bolo. With these weapons they sailed into the body of Chinese and inflicted many cuts and bruises before finally driven back to their quarters, with the loss of one man killed by a knife thrust.

Suicide Follows Later.

A crazed Filipino, Andreas Banaag, for Hawaii, who developed mental troubles shortly after the vessel sailed from Yokohama, was seen to leave his quarters in the hospital on the night of July 3rd, and before he could be stopped, had sprung to the rail of the steamer and leaped into the sea.

An aged Japanese business man proceeding to San Francisco, died at daylight this morning, his demise being attributed to pneumonia.

WATER SUPPLY FAILING RAPIDLY

With the artesian water level lower than it has been in the last three years and no immediate prospect of heavy rainfall in the mountains, the department of public works still faces the crisis that developed nearly two months ago and is rapidly advancing toward the danger point.

Superintendent Marston Campbell says that the owners of irrigated lands in the suburbs continue to pay no heed to the department's demand for economy, and that the law is inadequate for prosecution of offenders.

An additional boiler, of 250 horsepower capacity is advertised for by the department today, to be installed as an auxiliary at the Beretania street station. The artesian water level this morning reached 27.70 feet above sea level, just one-fifth of a foot higher than the lowest mark ever recorded in the gauge, and Superintendent Campbell says it undoubtedly will drop below that level shortly unless heavy precipitation comes to relieve the situation.

"Pot- and rice-growers in the suburbs of Honolulu still ignore our requests for economical use of the irrigating waters," he said this morning, "and the law doesn't define the difference between waste and necessary use of water sufficiently to permit prosecution."

"If I could bring rain by climbing up to the Paoli and firing cannon into the clouds I'd gladly do it, but you will remember that I tried that experiment some years ago and it proved a failure."

ASSESSOR UPHELD IN TWO TAX APPEAL CASES

Two tax appeals were decided by the Oahu Board this morning, both accepting the figures of the Assessor as final and just. They were the appeals of F. M. Swany, the first, on lands at Kulaia and Hakipuu being assessed at $305. The owner's returned valuation was $105. The second was on his land at Kaaawa, Koolaula, the assessed value of which was $900 and the returned value $350.

The Oahu Board probably will finish its work this afternoon or tomorrow, as only four cases remain. Two of these are by the Kulaia Ranch and two are by Mrs. E. C. Judd.

PAUL DE BRETTEVILLE
Killed in Accident Yesterday.

Youth Meets Death Near Spot Where Chum Was Drowned a Year Ago

Almost a year to the day from the time that his chum from boyhood, Eddie Schieber, was drowned in the surf waters of the harbor, Paul de Bretteville, one of the best known and most popular young men of the city, met death yesterday morning when he was run down by an auto driven by J. F. Dillon, 1513 Young street, a machinist at the Honolulu Iron Works. The accident occurred at 9:15 o'clock in front of the naval wireless station, on the Esplanade, and de Bretteville succumbed to his injuries in the Queen's Hospital two hours later.

JUDGES DECIDE AGAINST U.S.

(Associated Press Cable)
STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN, July 8.—THE 100-METER SWIMMING RACE, WON BY DUKE KAHANAMOKU OF HONOLULU LAST SATURDAY, WILL BE SWUM OVER AGAIN.

In the 10,000-meter race, Finland's entry, Hans Kohlenmaier, finished first and Finland also won third place. America won second place.

In the high jump, which was thought to be at the mercy of George Morris of Stanford, America, carried off first place through the great efforts of Richards of Brigham Young University, Utah. Richards cleared 183 centimeters, about six feet, three and one-third inches. Garvey won second place.

Americans won first, second and third in the 800 meter race.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 8.—The American runners in the 400-meter relay race of the Olympic games were disqualified when the race was held today, because the judges ruled them guilty of over-running.

Just what the cablegram referring to the re-swimming of the 100-meter race means is not at all clear, nor why Duke's victory last Saturday was not conclusive.

The reference to "over-running" in the 400-meter relay race is also indefinite. The Americans may have over-run by getting off the mark too soon at the start, or one or more of the succeeding runners may have started before the man finishing got to mark and thus gained a fraction or so of a second.

ITALIAN CAMORRISTS ARE GUILTY

(Special Star-Bulletin Cable)
VITERBO, Italy, July 8.—After a trial extending over more than a year and which has aroused world-wide interest, a unanimous verdict of guilty was returned against the members of the Camorra on trial here for the murder of Giuseppe Cuccia and his wife. The members of the Camorra arrested on suspicion of being connected with the crime were found guilty of belonging to a criminal association.

The Camorra, even in many respects is the most notable in the history of criminal law. The charge of murder was brought directly against Giuseppe Alfano, alleged head of the band of outlaws, thieves and women of ill-repute that constituted the active Camorra, which has terrorized Naples, Sicily, Calabria and other places. The Camorra was protected by high government officials, and maintained a semi-political character. King Victor Emmanuel lent his personal efforts to bringing the criminals to justice. The trial has been marked by attempted violence and sensational threats in the court-room.

HAVEMEYER GOT $10,000,000 FREE

(Associated Press Cable)
TRENTON, N. J., July 8.—Vice-chancellor Stevenson, in an opinion handed down today, holds that ten million dollars' worth of stock in the National Sugar Refining Company was issued to Henry Havemeyer without consideration.

JUDGE ARCHBALD IS IMPEACHED

(Associated Press Cable)
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8.—The House judiciary committee today presented articles of impeachment against Judge Robert W. Archbald of the commerce court, desiring his actions to have been reprehensible. Judge Archbald is charged with having used his office to procure favor from the railroads. One of the specific allegations made against Judge Archbald is that he is interested in the proposed purchase of coal lands owned by a coal company and controlled by the Erie Railroad, and that Judge Archbald was to receive one-third of the profits from the sale of the coal.

The charges were first made last February, and President Taft ordered an investigation by the attorney-general.
